PORTSMOUTH IS STRUCK BY SEVERE FIRE

Early Morning Blaze Destroys
Two Stores—Loss Estimated at $250,000.

PORTSMOUTH, O., Jan. 4.—Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed the Kresge Five and Ten Cent store and the stores of the Atlas Dry Goods Co. here today. The loss is estimated at $250,000.

The blaze was discovered shortly before 7 a. m. and had gained such headway that it was impossible to save the building in which the two stores were located.

Firemen devoted their attention to preventing the spread of the flames to adjoining buildings. No one was injured.

The fire was not placed under control until nearly noon. All that remains of the building is its blackened walls.

Traffic was tied up for several hours as every available piece of fire fighting apparatus in the city fought the blaze.

It is believed the fire started in the basement of the dry goods concern.

The building, the remodeled structure of the old Portsmouth opera house, was gutted by fire in 1914.

FIRE ISOLATES CITY

JOHNSON CITY, Tenn., Jan. 4.—Jonesboro, Tennessee's oldest town and original capital of the state, today was being swept by a disastrous fire, according to meagre reports received here.

Neighboring cities were asked to send all available fire fighting apparatus.

The telephone exchange had been down, it was reported, and there was no connection with the isolated city.

LINE SPEAKERS ARE OBTAINED

Three Sessions Will Be Held
At Washington-Twp Annual Farm Institute.

A farmers institute will be held at the Washington-Twp centralized school building Thursday and Friday, January 17 and 18.

The institute will be held in three sessions, one session will be held on Thursday afternoon while the other two will be held Friday morning and afternoon.

Wilson Dunkle is president in charge of the institute and John Bolender, secretary.

The principal speakers at the institute will be Otto H. Pollock, a successful farmer and horse breeder of Delaware-co, and Miss Emma Erf, the daughter of a dairy farmer of northeast Ohio.

The program promises to be interesting as well as highly educational to the farmers.

FARM ACCOUNTING SCHOOL ARRANGED

It has been proven that records kept on the farm are the best gauge of the profits and losses in farm operation. So H. S. Lewis, county farm agent, has arranged for a farm accounting school to be held Monday, Jan. 14. The school will start at 10 a. m. and continue until 4 p. m.

The object of this school is to acquaint the farmers with easy and good methods of keeping their farm accounts.

J. C. Neff, farm management specialist of Ohio State university, and the county agent will conduct school.

NAMED TRUSTEE

Dr. O. J. Moon, of New Holland, has been appointed by the Pickaway-co commissioners as a trustee of the Pickaway-co Children's home. Dr. Moon was appointed to the trusteeship formerly held by Senet Snyder, well known resident and sportsman of Circleville, now deceased.

PARLEY TAKES WAR'S PLACE

Bolivia and Paraguay Agree
To Arbitration Of So.
American Dispute.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—War was definitely put in the discard today as a means of settling the dispute of the Paraguayan-Chaco between Bolivia and Paraguay.

Instead, a conciliation commission, the fruit of the Pan-American conference, will begin to function immediately. Nine judges, five of them from neutral members of the Pan-American family of nations, will determine the cause and responsibility for the bloody border clashes in the Chaco between Bolivian and Paraguayan troops, which began Dec. 6.

With simple ceremony a conciliation protocol was signed last night in the tropical setting of the Pan-American building here by Diez De Medina, Bolivian minister and Juan Ramirez, Paraguayan charge d'affaires.

Secretary of State Kellogg presided at the signing as president of the Pan-American conciliation and arbitration conference, which had just before gotten into shape for final signing tomorrow, two treaties to prevent affecting 20 Pan-American nations. Argentina alone remains without the fold.

WHALEN GANG CLEANING UP

New York's Police Commissioner Raids 60 Speakeasies
Criminals Flee.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—Police Commissioner Whalen's campaign to wipe out all of New York's speakeasies was pushed briskly last night and early today when police raided 60 places throughout the city, arresting 100 proprietors or bartenders and confiscating a considerable quantity of liquor. Four self-styled night clubs were among the places raided.

Some of the dives where wood alcohol was alleged to have been sold were wrecked by the new gun squad composed of the huskiest men on the force.

When the prisoners were bailed in the professional bail bondsmen had a rush of business. The proprietor of one place, the Victoria club, dashed in to furnish bail for his bartender and returned to his night club only to be arrested himself when police engaged a second raid on his club.

The patrons of the raided restaurants and night clubs were frisked for flasks, but were not arrested. Few criminals were arrested by the "treat 'em rough squad." Facing the prospect of being "beaten up every few days on general principles," many gangsters have left the city in search of more restful surroundings.

Ambitious Thief 'Swipes' Key To Tiffin City Jail

TIFFIN, O., Jan. 4.—Police today are scouring Tiffin and the nearby countryside for the thief who, yesterday, stole the key to the city jail.

The key, a half-pound brass piece, was missed when the police were ordered to release the only prisoner in the jail. Even though entitled to freedom through the dismissal of the charges against him, he was forced to remain an unwilling prisoner for two hours while mechanics tried to pick the lock.

After all attempts to pick the lock failed, it was shattered with sledge hammers.

GEORGE W. BLUE DIES THURSDAY

Widely Known Retired Farmer of Amanda Succumbs
After Brief Illness.

George W. Blue, 75, retired farmer of Amanda, died at his home here at 4:30 a. m. Thursday after a brief illness.

He was a native of Pickaway-co and was the son of John and Louise Gallagher Blue. His wife, who was Miss Emma Reber, preceded him in death. He is survived by three sons, Ralph Blue, Cleveland, Max Blue and Homer Blue, Amanda. Two brothers, Arthur Blue, Amanda and John Blue, Kansas City, Mo., and 10 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services for Mr. Blue will be held at the late home at 2 p. m. Saturday with interment in Amanda-Twp cemetery.

COOPER NAMES CABINET MEMBER

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 4.—Official announcement of the selection of Will T. Blake, 51, East Liverpool, by Governor-elect Myers Y. Cooper for state director of industrial relations was published today.

Blake, who will succeed former Mayor Herman R. Witter (Canton, Democrat), will assume the duties of his new office here Jan. 11 when shortly after Cooper is inaugurated as governor.

Cooper is expected to announce the appointment of the remaining members of his cabinet—health director and public welfare director—within a few days.

MADRID, Jan. 4.—The French steamer Malakoff has been lost in the Mediterranean Sea off Minorca island with the loss of 27 lives, said a dispatch from Mahon today. Six persons were saved.

TREATY FOES PLAN WAR ON PEACE PACT

Irreconcilables Under Sen.
Reed Wants American Safety Insured.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—The old irreconcilable band, its ranks decimated, was preparing a new "League of Nations" battle today against unconditional ratification of the Kellogg-Briand anti-war treaty.

With the way cleared for exclusive consideration of the treaty, administration leaders proposed to hold the compact before the senate until a final vote is reached. Some optimistic proponents predicted its ratification by Saturday night but the opponents declared a vote would not be reached for many days to come.

President Coolidge, anxious to close his White House regime with an outstanding achievement in the interests of world peace, threw his influence behind the administration ranks. The compact likewise has the endorsement of hundreds of church organizations, peace associations and pacifist groups.

SEEK U. S. SAFETY

The irreconcilables, led by Senator James A. Reed (D) of Missouri, however, argued that these organizations know nothing about international affairs and point to how time has justified their judgment when they fought the League of Nations covenant and the world court pact. The irreconcilable goal though is not defeat of the treaty—rather its ratification upon terms insuring the safety of American interests.

The irreconcilable "resolution of explanation" would fix three conditions for American adherence. First, the United States would be free to act in defense of its traditional policies (the Monroe Doctrine) or its territory at any time, second, it would never be obliged to use force to uphold the treaty against any offending nation; and third, it would not be obligated to the terms of any other treaty (the League of Nations covenant) to which it has not adhered.

In opening debate on the treaty, Senator William E. Borah (R) of Idaho, chairman of the foreign relations committee, declared such fears were unjustified. He declared all nations, adhering to the treaty, were given the right to act in self defense at all times. He also asserted that there could be no implied obligation for the United States to use force at any time against any other nation, when the treaty's only purpose was to "out-law all war."

"This treaty must be measured in its value by the conceded right of self defense to all the signatory nations," said Borah. "All the signatory nations have taken the position that they have the right of self defense. It is not disputed."

"But if any notion should go to war without resorting to arbitration first, it would bring censure upon itself. No government, which refused to arbitrate a dispute, could in my judgment ever again claim in good faith that it was acting in self defense. It would be placed in a position before all the world where it would be practically impossible to defend its course of conduct."

Borah argued that the treaty contained no implied suggestion for the use of force. He termed it a dedication to the "policy of voluntary peace." He said the treaty "depended upon the conscience of nations to become operative."

"The philosophy of this treaty is not in preventing war but in organizing peace," Borah added. "That's an entirely different thing. This treaty condemns war—not merely aggressive war. It condemns war as an institution and as a method of settling disputes. There is nothing in the treaty and nothing in the correspondence between the fifteen signatory nations which even suggests the use of force against any offending nation."

Ercell Wright is president and Mrs. Edyth Cleary is secretary. Children are making the posters for the exhibit. Special premiums will be awarded for exhibits in corn and food shows.

The New Holland and Atlanta schools are preparing music for the occasion. The New Holland school band will play on Saturday while the Atlanta school band will play on the opening day. The principal speakers for the institute will be A. F. Moon, of Conover and Mrs. Walter C. Pierce, of Troy.

The program and premium lists will be announced later.

CLUB'S WORK IS EXPLAINED

Activities of Professional Women's Organization Related To Rotarians.

The Business and Professional Women's club activities and its program were explained to the Rotarians at their weekly meeting Thursday noon. Mrs. H. G. Stevenson, president of the local organization, told of their organization, the reason for their community activities and how interested are its members in the work that they do.

Starting with a small number they have grown locally and in the state there are over 4,000 members and over 50,000 in the United States.

Miss Nelle Anderson explained the benefits that are to be derived from becoming associated with this body and how enthused are those who enter into the activities and really appreciate the usefulness of such an organization to the community. Miss Grayce Mackay, of New York, who is here to direct "Her Song," a musical comedy that will be presented by the Business and Professional Women's club entertainment members with several piano and whistling selections.

Several visitors were in attendance from Chillicothe and Lancaster. Monday night the local club will attend the inter-city meeting at Logan.

Says Voodooism Possesses Many U. S. Followers

Witchcraft Expert Says Black
Magic In America Revealed
By York Murder.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—Voodooism and Witchcraft are "infinitely more prevalent in the rural districts of the country than most people imagine," W. B. Seabrook, author and adventurer, said today in commenting on the "witch murder" trial which opens next Monday in York, Pa.

Seabrook is an authority on witchcraft. His new book, "The Magic Island," reveals the secret voodoo rites of Haiti and holds the distinction of being the Literary Guild of America's January volume.

"The trial at York should afford the public an accidental glimpse of what is transpiring in many rural sections of the United States," said Seabrook when interviewed in his studio apartment in Greenwich village. "I say accidental because had no murder resulted there would have been no publicity. The trial may tend to educate the general public to what witchcraft is, just as the trial at Dayton, Tenn., brought about wide discussion of evolution."

"Voodooism of the real, old-fashioned South Africa type still is practiced in parts of the south. You can find plenty of superstition even in such enlightened cities as New York, Charleston, S. C., and New Orleans. Right now voodoo and magic charms are being sold in New York's Harlem district, in Hoboken N. J., and in Jersey City. I am told there is plenty of superstition in the rural sections of New England. The York murder discloses the situation in Pennsylvania."

Preparations are under way for the "witch trial" at York. There are three defendants, John Blymyer, 28, Wilbert Hess, 18 and John Curry, 11—all of them ridden by superstition and black magic. They have confessed killing Nelson D. Rehmyer, a hermit-like farmer, to get a lock of his hair and break a "spell" which they thought Rehmyer cast over them. They believe Rehmyer to be a "witch."

FOUR ARE HELD IN RUM RING EXPOSE

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 4.—With four men already under arrest in an alleged liquor conspiracy U. S. Marshals are expected to apprehend several more men secretly indicted by the federal grand jury here it was learned today from the district attorney's office. The conspiracy is said to consist of the shipment of liquor into Columbus from Buffalo, by express in beer kegs and then distributed throughout the territory.

Those indicted today are Clifford Miller, Columbus, delivery supervisor of the Akron and Kent Express; Conner Isaak, Silas Buffalo and Joseph Isaak and Carl Weisenbach, Columbus truck drivers. Schwarz has been released under $2,500 bond.

Byron Shaw, Westerville, dry-cleaning operator, was arrested on another liquor conspiracy indictment.

U. S. SHIPS TO GET MAIL

Postoffice Issues Order Taking
Postal Cargoes From British.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—As the result of an unprecedented order to the New York postoffice from Washington, the Cunard liner Berencaris will sail from this port tonight with only a small fraction of its usual cargo of outgoing American mail. Although postoffice officials said the order resulted from dissatisfaction with the service given by some foreign-owned lines, it is believed that the postoffice department has aligned itself with the shipping board in a reprisal move against the Cunard line for its action in competing against American vessels for the New York-Havana trade.

The mail was assigned to the White Star liner Baltic, which sails tomorrow and will not arrive in Europe until several days after the Berencaris gets there. The order also will deprive two other Cunard liners the Ansonia and the Andania, of the greater part of their mail cargo. Only mail that is addressed specifically to these ships for delivery will be carried by them.

One official hinted that all outgoing mail will be assigned to American ships in the future. The right of the Cunard line to invade the New York-Havana route, hitherto the exclusive lane of American ships, has been the subject of a sharp controversy between shipping board officials and the Cunard line since the British line placed its fast liner Caronia on the run to Cuba.

AERO CLUB IS PLANNED HERE

Civilian Pilot Hopes To Organize
Aviation Group In
Circleville.

Circleville is to have an aero club, if the present plans of H. H. Stevens, formerly of Columbus, now a resident of this city, materialize.

Stevens, an ardent booster of aviation in Columbus and the holder of a pilot's license, now lives in Circleville and is of the opinion this town needs an aero club.

Stevens came to this city the first of the year as a salesman in this territory and has learned that a number of local persons would like to have a club and learn to fly.

Through the Buckeye Flying Service he has arranged for a plane to come to Circleville Saturday afternoon for a few stunts over Circleville.

Stevens is now looking for a few of about 10 a. m. to use as a flying day.

Any persons who are interested in learning to fly are asked to see Mr. Stevens or to inquire at The Herald office.

VICTROLA STOLEN

The sheriff's office was notified Thursday that someone who is apparently a great lover of music entered the school building at South Elm field Wednesday night and walked away with a victrola and a number of records. John Ward, deputy was sent to investigate the theft.

PLANE STILL DRONES WAY THROUGH AIR

Aviators, Passing All Endurance
Records, Seek To Better
Graf Cruise.

IMPERIAL AIRPORT, IMPERIAL, CA., Jan. 4.—Starting the fourth day of its cruise holding every known world's record for continuous flight by airplane, the army endurance "Question Mark" today took on 250 more gallons of gasoline from a refueling plane. Ham and eggs and coffee, in food containers were also dropped to the flyers. The ship had been in the air almost 72 hours at 7 a. m.

With all three Wright Whirlwind motors throbbing rhythmically, the Giant Folker plane exceeded the world's record for continuous flying at 1:51:43 a. m., and at 4:51 a. m., the big man-bird had been aloft 69 hours from the time of its takeoff New Year's morning at Metropolitan airport, Los Angeles, the great craft was sailing smoothly over the low-lying Imperial valley, describing huge circles in the vicinity of the airport.

FORCED INLAND

"Her motors sound perfect, there is no telling how long she will stay in the air," Newport Sproule, air expert of the National Aeronautical association, told International News service, just after the "Question Mark" had passed directly over the runway of the field.

Forced inland by fogs, the "Question Mark" surpassed the refueling endurance record set by Belgian airmen last night at 9:26 o'clock at that hour the army plane had been in continuous flight for 62 hours. The previous record for a similar flight was 60 hours and seven minutes.

Earlier in the day the American record for refueling endurance record was surpassed. The "Question Mark" was still functioning splendidly over the Imperial valley when the new record was established and army officers here were confident that the plane would remain in the air for many more hours.

SUFFER FROM STRAIN

The crew of five manning the "Question Mark" intend to remain in the air until the motors of the plane wear out, or until fatigue forces them to the ground.

Messages dropped from the ship indicated the crew was beginning to feel the strain of the flight to some extent. During the past 24 hours flying conditions have not been good, and the strain of flying in the fog and bumpy air has caused considerable nervous tension among members of the crew.

After innumerable difficulties in the air along the coast the "Question Mark" flew to the Imperial valley yesterday. A ground crew and a "nurse" plane had been sent there and a refueling operation was successfully made at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The plane then continued its flight El Centro.

PUBLIC MEETINGS BANNED AT LOGAN

LOGAN, Jan. 4.—Due to the rapid increase of influenza cases in this city and Hocking-co. health authorities have taken action to close the churches, picture shows and other places of public meetings. Approximately 1,000 cases of the malady are reported in Hocking-co.

The Laurels school was closed this week but is expected to re-open next Monday. The majority of the schools in the rural districts of this vicinity show a reduced attendance due to the many cases of influenza.

IMPROVEMENT SEEN FOR BRITISH KING

LONDON, Jan. 4.—King George had a good night and the local condition shows further slight improvement. It was officially announced in the following bulletin issued at Buckingham Palace at 11:30 a. m. today.

"The king has had a quieter night. The local condition shows slight improvement while his general condition remains stationary."

The bulletin interpreted in palace circles as meaning that the king's condition is continuing satisfactory. It was officially stated that all members of the royal family are "greatly encouraged."

Says Voodooism Possesses Many U. S. Followers

Witchcraft Expert Says Black
Magic In America Revealed
By York Murder.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—Voodooism and Witchcraft are "infinitely more prevalent in the rural districts of the country than most people imagine," W. B. Seabrook, author and adventurer, said today in commenting on the "witch murder" trial which opens next Monday in York, Pa.

Seabrook is an authority on witchcraft. His new book, "The Magic Island," reveals the secret voodoo rites of Haiti and holds the distinction of being the Literary Guild of America's January volume.

"The Trial at York" should afford the public an accidental glimpse of what is transpiring in many rural sections of the United States," said Seabrook when interviewed in his studio apartment in Greenwich village. "I say accidental because had no murder resulted there would have been no publicity. The trial may tend to educate the general public to what witchcraft is, just as the trial at Dayton, Tenn., brought about wide discussion of evolution."

"Voodooism of the real, old-fashioned South Africa type still is practiced in parts of the south. You can find plenty of superstition even in such enlightened cities as New York, Charleston, S. C., and New Orleans. Right now voodoo and magic charms are being sold in New York's Harlem district, in Hoboken, N. J., and in Jersey City. I am told there is plenty of superstition in the rural sections of New England. The York murder discloses the situation in Pennsylvania."

Preparations are under way for the "witch trial" at York. There are three defendants, John Blymyer, 28, Wilbert Hess, 18 and John Curry, 14—all of them ridden by superstition and black magic. They have confessed killing Nelson D. Rehmyer, a hermit-like farmer, to get a lock of his hair and break a "spell" which they thought Rehmyer cast over them. They believe Rehmyer to be a "witch."

FOUR ARE HELD IN RUM RING EXPOSE

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 4.—With four men already under arrest in an alleged liquor conspiracy U. S. Marshals are expected to apprehend several more men secretly indicted by the federal grand jury here, it was learned today from the district attorney's office. The conspiracy is said to consist of the shipment of liquor into Columbus from Buffalo by express under fake billings and then distributed throughout this territory.

Those in custody today are Clifford Miller, Columbus, delivery supervisor of the American Railway Express Company; Isaac Schwed, Buffalo, and Joseph Link and Carl Weisenbach, Columbus truck drivers. Schwed has been released under $2,500 bond.

Byron Shaw, Westerville, the "dry capital" of the world, also is under arrest on another liquor conspiracy indictment.

SUFFERS FROM FLU

Mrs. Merle Barnhart, S. Pickaway-st., is very ill at her home with influenza.

U. S. SHIPS TO GET MAIL

Postoffice Issues Order Taking
Postal Cargoes From British.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—As the result of an unprecedented order to the New York postoffice from Washington, the Cunard liner Berengaria will sail from this port tonight with only a small fraction of its usual cargo of outgoing American mail. Although postoffice officials said the order resulted from dissatisfaction with the service given by some foreign-owned lines, it is believed that the postoffice department has aligned itself with the shipping board in a reprisal move against the Cunard line for its action in competing against American vessels for the New York-Havana trade.

The mail was assigned to the White Star liner Baltic, which sails tomorrow and will not arrive in Europe until several days after the Berengaria gets there. The order also will deprive two other Cunard liners, the Ansonia and the Andania, of the greater part of their mail cargo. Only mail that is addressed specifically to these ships for delivery will be carried by them.

One official hinted that all outgoing mail will be assigned to American ships in the future.

The right of the Cunard line to invade the New York-Havana route, hitherto the exclusive lane of American ships, has been the subject of a sharp controversy between shipping board officials and the Cunard line since the British line placed its fast liner Caronia on the run to Cuba.

AERO CLUB IS PLANNED HERE

Civilian Pilot Hopes To Organize
Aviation Group In
Circleville.

Circleville is to have an aero club, if the present plans of H. H. Stevens, formerly of Columbus, now a resident of this city, materialize.

Stevens, an ardent booster of aviation in Columbus and the holder of a pilot's license, now lives in Circleville and is of the opinion this town needs an aero club.

Stevens came to this city the first of the year as a salesman in this territory and has learned that a number of local persons would like to have a club and learn to fly.

Through the Buckeye Flying Service he has arranged for a plane to come to Circleville Saturday afternoon for a few stunts over Circleville.

Stevens is now looking for a field of about 40 acres to use as a flying field and airport.

Any persons who are interested in learning to fly are asked to see Mr. Stevens, or to inquire at The Herald office.

VICTROLA STOLEN

The sheriff's office was notified late Thursday that someone who is apparently a great lover of music entered the school building at South Bloomfield Wednesday night and walked away with a victrola and a number of records. John Ward, deputy was sent to investigate the theft.

PLANE STILL DRONES WAY THROUGH AIR

Aviators, Passing All Endurance
Marks, Seek To Better
Graf Cruise.

IMPERIAL AIRPORT, IMPERIAL, CA., Jan. 4.—Starting the fourth day of its cruise holding every known world's record for continuous flight by airplanes, the army endurance "Question Mark" today took on 250 more gallons of gasoline from a refueling plane. Ham and eggs and coffee, in food containers were also dropped to the flyers. The ship had been in the air almost 72 hours at 7 a. m.

With all three Wright Whirlwind motors throbbing rhythmically, the Giant Folker plane exceeded the world's record for continuous flying at 1:51:43 a. m., and at 4:51 a. m., the big man-bird had been aloft 69 hours from the time of its takeoff New Year's morning at Metropolitan airport, Los Angeles, the great craft was sailing smoothly over the low-lying Imperial valley, describing huge circles in the vicinity of the airport.

FORCED INLAND

"Her motors sound perfect, there is no telling how long she will stay in the air," Newport Sproule, air expert of the National Aeronautical association, told International News service, just after the "Question Mark" had passed directly over the runway of the field.

Forced inland by fogs, the "Question Mark" surpassed the refueling endurance record set by Belgian airmen last night at 9:26 o'clock at that hour the army plane had been in continuous flight for 62 hours. The previous record for a similar flight was 60 hours and seven minutes.

Earlier in the day the American record for refueling endurance record was surpassed.

The "Question Mark" was still functioning splendidly over the Imperial valley when the new record was established and army officers here were confident that the plane would remain in the air for many more hours.

SUFFER FROM STRAIN

The crew of five manning the "Question Mark" intend to remain in the air until the motors of the plane wear out, or until fatigue forces them to the ground.

Messages dropped from the ship indicated the crew was beginning to feel the strain of the flight to some extent. During the past 24 hours flying conditions have not been good, and the strain of flying in the fog and bumpy air has caused considerable nervous tension among members of the crew.

After innumerable difficulties in the air along the coast the "Question Mark" flew to the Imperial valley yesterday. A ground crew and a "nurse" plane had been sent there and a refueling operation was successfully made at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The plane then continued its flight El Centro.

PUBLIC MEETINGS BANNED AT LOGAN

LOGAN, Jan. 4.—Due to the rapid increase of influenza cases in this city and Hocking-co, health authorities have taken action to close the churches, picture shows and other places of public meetings. Approximately 1,000 cases of the malady are reported in Hocking-co.

The Laurelville school was closed this week but is expected to re-open next Monday. The majority of the schools in the rural districts of this vicinity show a reduced attendance due to the many cases of influenza.

IMPROVEMENT SEEN FOR BRITISH KING

LONDON, Jan. 4.—King George had a good night and the local lung condition shows further slight improvement, it was officially announced in the following bulletin issued at Buckingham Palace at 11:30 a. m., today:

"The king has had a quieter night. The local condition shows slight improvement while his general condition remains stationary."

The bulletin interpreted in palace circles as meaning that the king's condition is continuing satisfactory. It was officially stated that all members of the royal family are "greatly encouraged."

Famous Outfielder Asks What Team Can Beat New York In Coming Season.

(By DAVID J. WALSH)
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—Who's going to beat us?" It's funny about things like that. George Ruth, the baseball player was craftily concealing his real purpose behind a mask of indifference but a clever student of humanity, schooled to look for nuances and hidden meanings, generally is equal to an emergency. For example, I have an idea that what he really wanted to know was, who was going to beat them. It wasn't a question, as a matter of fact. It was an answer. It merely was George's way of saying that nobody was going to beat the New York Yankees out of the 1929 pennant for the simple reason that, in his opinion, they had precisely nobody to beat.

"The Philadelphia Athletics," the writer suggested tentatively. "AND HE SMILED" Mister Ruth smiled. Only a man versed in the language of the snuff—a man like myself who has studied the snuff in its home life from the cover of a nearby tree—could have understood the nature of this snuff. It was rhetorical, eloquent. Hearing it, one got the impression that Marc Antony wasted his time over the body of Caesar. He should have snuffed. Be that as it might, the writer was not yet nonplussed. Favoring attack as the strongest defense, he told George that his own team had more holes than oil field. He pointed out that Pennock and Lazzeri were uncertain until they had proved definitely that their "temporary injuries" were not permanent. Where's your catcher, asked he, and what about this Larry?

"Who's Larry?" countered Mister Ruth, brightly. Realizing that the boy friend was leaving, I informed him very civilly that Larry was the lad for whom the club had laid out upward of 100,000 cakes or smackers; that, in fact, Larry was his new shortstop.

He replied reflectively that "Korning" was a pretty good shortstop. I answered that Koenig was to be the third baseman. He arched his brow at me, astounded.

SHORTSTOP SETTLED "Korning" is a pretty good shortstop," observed he, threateningly. I didn't see where my purpose could be served by pursuing the matter further.

"Yesir," said Mister Ruth, finding at last that he was in the company of one who understands thoroughly. "We have the same team that won the pennant last year. Lazzeri and Pennock got hurt but we won without them, anyhow, didn't we? We've got the pitching and we've got the hitting and that's about all you need nowadays. Besides, who's going to beat us?"

I knew it. He was trying to fool me again. If I hadn't been on my guard, as a matter of fact, I would have been convinced that what he really wanted to know was, who was going to beat him.

DORNSIFE FUNERAL

The funeral of the late Daniel M. Dornsife, who died Monday in Columbus, was held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Methodist Episcopal church at Darbyville, where he formerly resided.

Rev. T. M. Ricketts, of Ashville, a close friend of the deceased, conducted the services and paid a tribute of respect to his memory.

Misses Lottie and Addie Downs, Frank M. Beatty, and Milton Beatty sang the hymns, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," "We Are Going Down the Valley," and "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere."

Beautiful flowers surrounded the casket which was borne by his four sons, David, Fern, Harry and Grover Dornsife; a son-in-law, George N. Strait, and nephew, Noah Holliday. Burial was in the Darbyville cemetery.

Mr. Dornsife's eldest son, Archie M. Dornsife, is ill with the flu and was unable to attend his father's funeral.

Former Dayton Heavyweight May Gain Laurels In New York Bout Tonight.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—A heavyweight number which has tipped up on Tex Rickard' boxing clientele disguised as a background for the revival meeting between two former members of Queensberry royalty—Johnny Dundee and Charlie Phil Rosenber—will introduce tonight at Madison Square Garden two earnest young name and fortune seekers.

Today the names of Max Schmeling and Joe Sekyra do not appear in the blue book of heavyweight contenders, but it is possible that one or the other may pop into the Rickard elimination tonight. Of course, it is also possible that they may eliminate each other.

It is an important fight for these young men. Schmeling has caught the fancy of the crowd, although he has made only one previous appearance in the Garden ring. He has not, however, been severely tested. Sekyra, strong and willing, may blast the German's ambition. For Sekyra can lay in a punch when he can locate a target.

Sekyra is a big, blonde Bohemian boy who became a fighter after achieving local fame in Dayton, Ohio, as a high school athlete.

In his last appearance in Mr. Rickard's famous arena he was jolly well shellacked by Leo Lomaski. In two years of busy campaigning, this decision was only the second that went against him. Johnny Risko took the other one.

Read of the happy and surprising experience of Miss Stella Ware, 23 Rankin street, Ashland, Ohio, had with this super-compound.

"After three years of doctoring I found at last the right medicine in Konjola," she declares. "Among the things I tried in an effort to get relief from neuritis was a series of 42 treatments. No results. The pains were so severe that when they came on I was as one paralyzed. I was completely worn out, nervous and exhausted all the time. The splendid endorsements of Konjola led me to give this new medicine a trial. The results were simply marvelous. While taking the first bottle I gained four pounds. Within three weeks every sign of neuritis was gone. My digestive and other organs were refreshed, and I am today in the best general health I have had in years."

Konjola is sold in Circleville, O., at the Mykranitz Pharmacy drug store, and by the best druggists throughout this entire section.

He has not, however, been severely tested. Sekyra, strong and willing, may blast the German's ambition. For Sekyra can lay in a punch when he can locate a target.

Sekyra is a big, blonde Bohemian boy who became a fighter after achieving local fame in Dayton, Ohio, as a high school athlete.

In his last appearance in Mr. Rickard's famous arena he was jolly well shellacked by Leo Lomski. In two years of busy campaigning, this decision was only the second that went against him. Johnny Risko took the other one.

Other transfers announced by the Logan Gas Co., are as follows: Mr. Harden of the Harden-Stevenson garage has moved to 807 N. Court-st; Earl Speakman has moved to 140 W. Mill-st; J. M. NAMED BAILIFF

Another new face has made its appearance at the court house for the next session of court. The newcomer is Jacob Young, 121 E. High-st, who is bailiff under J. W. Adkins, judge of common pleas court.

ESCAPE FROM FIRE

COLUMBUS, Jan. 3.—Mr. and Mrs. Vanzel Sampson and their year-old daughter, Martha Jean, were none the worse today from their experience early this morning when they were forced to flee in their night clothes from a burning house. The family managed to reach the roof of the front porch from which place they were rescued.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

CRUEL NEURITIS PUT TO FLIGHT BY NEW KONJOLA

Happy Young Lady, Free From Pain, Tells of Many Kinds of Medicines and Treatments Failing.

MISS STELLA WARE

Those who may have the groundless belief that there is no escape from the dread clutches of neuritis, will find great encouragement in the fact that Konjola is winning victory after victory over this torturing ailment. Read of the happy and surprising experience of Miss Stella Ware, 33 Runkle street, Ashtabula, Ohio, had with this super-compound.

"After three years of doctoring I found at last the right medicine in Konjola," she declares. "Among the things I tried in an effort to get relief from neuritis was a series of 42 treatments. No results. The pains were so fierce, that when they came on I was as one paralyzed. I was completely worn out, nervous and exhausted all the time. The splendid endorsements of Konjola led me to give this new medicine a trial. The results were simply marvelous. While taking the first bottle I gained four pounds. Within three weeks every sign of neuritis was gone. My digestive and other organs were refreshed, and I am today in the best general health I have had in years."

Konjola is sold in Circleville, O., at the Mykrantz Pharmacy drug store, and by all the best druggists throughout this entire section.

DONALD RIFFLE TO START TIRE SHOP

Donald Riffle, formerly employed at the Bumgarner and Pfarr tire shop and filling station on E. Main-st., will open a tire shop and operate a filling station at the corner of Washington and Main-sts. The building Riffle will use was formerly a tire shop operated by W. H. Nelson.

Other transfers announced by the Logan Gas Co., are as follows: Mr. Harden of the Harden-Stevenson garage has moved to 807 N. Court-st; Earl Speakman has moved to 140 W. Mill-st; J. M. POWER FARMING TO BE SUBJECT

Young's garage, on E. Franklin st., will be the scene of the 11th year power farming school on January 10, which will be held by the Rumley Machinery company. Those who attend the school will be afforded plenty of amusement and many new farm improvements will be introduced. Prizes totalling $25 will be given away at the school. The program and meeting of the school will be in charge of C. H. Odaffer, of Ashville, who is the Rumley agent and dealer in Pick-away-co.

DUMPING OF TRASH IN ALLEYS BANNED

Many persons are complaining to L. E. Miller, service director that they are picking up nails and other objects with their automobile tires when they drive through alleys and some streets in this city. The cause of all this is the fact that many persons are using the alleys and streets near their homes as ash cans. The ashes are filled with nails and other objects which won't burn and the result of the carelessness is flat tires. Not only such things puncture tires but they make the alleys unsightly and the service director asks that persons please not use the alley as their ash cans.

MT. STERLING RAT HUNT UNDERWAY

The annual rat hunt of the Mt. Sterling Rat Hunters Association sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce of Mt. Sterling which started Dec. 22, will close February 2 at 6 p. m. These rat hunts have resulted in great cleanups of the entire community of thousands of rats and mice and the hunt will close with a banquet for all members with hose on the winning side receiving 50 per cent in return of the original $1 which is the membership fee.

AN EASY WAY TO LOSE FAT
Instead of abnormal exercise or diet, they combat a cause of excess fat. They supply an element Nature employs to turn food into fuel and energy. This method was discovered by research men some two decades ago. It has for 20 years been embodied in Marmol's prescription tablets. Millions of boxes have been taken, and almost every circle shows the results in new beauty, new health and vitality. The formula comes in every box, also the scientific reasons for results. So users have no fear of harm. Go learn now what Marmol's does for excess fat, and why. Your druggist supplies it at $1 per box. Take four tablets daily and watch the change.

PRAYER—Blessed are the pure in heart for they shall see God.

SPAIN'S REVIVAL

It might interest you to know that Spain is undergoing a cultural and industrial revival right now that may eventually restore it to a leading position among European nations. And, oddly enough, America is in large part responsible.

American machinery and American commercial methods, gaining popularity in Spain every day are working a transformation in the country. The old sluggish lethargy that dropped Spain to the rank of "second class powers" is vanishing. Spain is becoming progressive.

It would be very strange if the United States which killed the last tract of Spain's once mighty New World empire, should help to bring Spain back to her former eminence among the peoples of Europe. But it may well happen.

SAVING THE BABIES

The United States is continuing in the good work of cutting down its infant mortality rate, according to Miss Grace Abbott, chief of the Children's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor. The rate last year—65 infant deaths per 1000 live births—was the lowest in the country's history.

Lest we relax our efforts, however, Miss Abbott points out that no state in the Union has yet succeeded in getting the rate as low as New Zealand, where it is only 39 per 1000. The best record is held by Oregon, with a rate of 43. Idaho and Washington are tied for second with 50, and Nebraska, Minnesota, Utah, Iowa, Kansas, New York, Wisconsin, Indiana and Connecticut follow in the order named.

The lowering of the rate Miss Abbott reports, is "unquestionably associated with the general improvement in public health, the establishment of child health conferences, the development of prenatal clinics the distribution of literature and public education."

WAITING FOR HOOVER

A dispatch from Washington indicates that the political gentry are experiencing sharp forms of chills and fever as they try to dope out the manner in which President elect Hoover will distribute the many jobs that are his to offer.

For the presidents-elect, it seems, were politicians themselves and could be gauged more or less accurately. They would "listen to reason," their sense of obligation to loyal workers could be counted on to insure a proper distribution of the plums. But Mr. Hoover isn't a politician—and the politicians are terribly afraid that some of them are going to get let down with a thump.

And somehow, the thought that that is exactly what may happen fills us with an uneasy gloom.

THEATRES

GILBERT, GARBO STARRED John Gilbert and Greta Garbo, whose disarming naturalness in the more romantic interludes of "Flesh and the Devil" and "Love" caused a deal of speculation as to whether or not they took tea together as pleasantly when not chaperoned by a camera, are the co-stars of "A Woman of Affairs," a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, which will open at the Metropolitan theatre Sunday.

The story of this film is by Michael Arlen and the direction is by Clarence Brown who also guided the players in "Flesh and the Devil." The cast, all-star, according to the announcement, includes Lewis Stone, Hobart Bosworth, Dorothy Sebastian, John Mack, Brown and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr.

In this picture Miss Garbo has the role of a vivacious hoydenish and effervescent society girl of London which sounds rather different from her previous screen interpretations.

TIGHT "SUB" SECRETS Jack Holt, Ralph Graves and Director Frank Capra spent three days aboard a submarine learning the routine before a single scene of Columbia's "Submarine," which is coming to the Cliftona theatre on Sunday, was taken.

Peaks of Desire

by Kane O'Day

WHAT HAS HAPPENED SO FAR.

JERRY DUNN, reporter, falls in love with Ann Tremaine, wealthy debutante. He takes her to live at his boarding house, and she is attracted to Steve Harrison, a husky young mechanic of whom Jerry is jealous. Ann gets a job in a small theatre owned by Nick Pagalos, and Steve goes into the trucking business. Maizie Thompson, an ex-sweetheart of Steve's, appears on the scene. She accuses Ann of having stolen Steve from her, but Steve denies this, saying he does not love Maizie. Ann and Steve leave Maizie in Jerry's room. Ann returns and tries to soothe the girl's feelings, but to no avail. She goes home with Jerry. The next day Ann asks for a $10 raise. She is beginning to feel that her friendship with Steve is dangerous.

NOW GO WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XXXIX.

A NEW area of speculation opened up in Ann's mind. She had been thinking so much about herself and her own private feelings that she had scarcely even considered what Steve might actually feel about her. He had told her he loved her but the word love was only a conventional term from the lips of men.

Of the genuine fires of love Ann knew practically nothing but she suspected much. She was a modern girl but had no hesitation in discussing topics that were formerly considered forbidden to a maiden, but beyond the barrier of conversation there existed limitless fields to which she was a total stranger. The ways of men were familiar to her open eyes but she had no idea what occurred in the remote vital centers of their thoughts. Steve, she imagined, was a victim of fascination.

Without any egotism Ann knew she had the power to charm many men.

But it was not easy for her to understand the elements of that fascination, why he was willing to follow her around and stake all of his hopes on what he should have known was a losing proposition. Surely he did not expect she would really marry him, and she could not conceive any other kind of surrender. True, there was a perilous fascination in speculation, but she had repeated to herself time and again that she was her own master. No man could capture her.

Ranked against all of this confidence, however, was the disturbing fact that Steve had once held her in his arms and declared his love to her violently. He had held her and released her when she had been all but helpless from nervous exhaustion and the shock of his earthly forces. A masculine kind of modesty had fallen upon him and he had restrained her to freedom and self-control. It was an event she did not like to remember—Steve himself had seemed to feel the shame of a man who had almost committed a sacrilege.

The thing that had originally drawn her to him had been a vital magnetism, but there was not a growing refinement of feeling on her part. It was pleasant to know that she could speak to him with a certain hardness and feel he was swimming in an intricate sensation of bliss.

She had always subconsciously wanted to help him. Through her he had learned to elevate himself and his helplessness around pity that was tender and mysterious, maternal. Since their first day of meeting he had been growing in her thoughts and she was growing in his. There was more to it than the impact of his vitality which at once had set her nerves thrilling with a strange instinct of feeling. The old fascination was still there but she did not think of it as love or desire. Such ideas were physical impulses always to be controlled.

"Jerry!" The exclamation was almost a gasp. In an instant she was ashamed.

By reasoning thus about him she was able to remove much that had disturbed her. At least, she had him classified: he was merely a new type of man and she had been absorbingly interested in him as a specimen. She felt vastly free and democratic.

Jerry's voice came to her over the telephone in the box office. "Can you save me a couple of good tickets for Saturday night?" He did not identify himself but she instantly knew who he was. "I certainly can. I've been wondering when you were going to pay a little attention to our Temple of the Drama."

"Don't bother trying to get the show to me—I know it's rotten," he replied. "For I have a lady friend who thinks it's art and she goes to worship at its shrine."

did you say?" Ann asked with a slight finge in her voice.

"Two. One for Maizie Thompson and one for me."

"Jerry!" The exclamation was almost a gasp. In an instant she was ashamed.

"There's nothing the matter with Maizie—she's not barred, is she?" he inquired.

He knew she was surprised and irritated; she was furious at herself because she had committed a self-betrayal. It wouldn't happen again.

"I should say Maizie is not barred," she retorted gayly. "The more Maizie in our theatre the better we like it."

"I'm having a night off," he explained, "and I'm sure Maizie will enjoy the show."

CABBAGES and KINGS

"The time has come," the Walrus said, "To talk of many things: Of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax— And cabbages—and kings—"

HISTORY

Methuselah et whatever was set. The nobelag to him was a riot. The way he got by was a treat to the eye. For Methuselah never would diet.

And herewith, forsooth, is the absolute truth.

Referring to this ancient party, For all his life he played a mean knife.

And always was found hale and hearty.

Reviewing his acts we arrive at the facts, That the dieting doctors have blundered—

It's a much better way to eat three meals a day And live to be over nine hundred.

Scientists say that Mars is still signalling via radio. Other scientists say that this is impossible. The two camps sound like a couple of garage loafers discussing the best detour.

An Illinois girl is getting her very attractive picture in the papers by saying that she can dress on $100 a year excepting for shoes and a winter coat. The old lady who makes her wardrobe on an annual expenditure of about $8 has not yet been given national publicity.

More marriage than divorces in 1924-26. Yet the lawyers probably made more out of the divorces than the ministers did out of the marriages. Things are hardly ever right in this world.

With no intention of making light of so tragic and pitiable a thing as suicide, that man who, a few days ago, killed himself because of ill health financial reverse, loss of position and disappointment in love, had at least provocation enough.

With all of these bank robberies and filling station holdups the report of an old-fashioned horse stealing comes as a relief.

If there are any lingering doubts about this being the greatest nation in the world you might note that America smokes more cigarettes than all the rest of the planet put together.

Sir Arthur Keith of London, says that we must develop the body at the expense of the brain or the race is doomed to extinction. He believes that man is already too well informed. He may be in England, Sir Arthur, but around these parts there is still a little room for improvement.

A Russian prince has been arrested in Paris for theft. He explained that his money was all gone, and that he was forced to steal in order to live. Nobody has so far been so crass as to mention that this bird might go to work.

Michigan is to play Harvard in 1930, and today we met a Wolverine fan who was trying at this early date to get ten dollars down on the game.

A young matron on the north side of town is experiencing her first winter as a wife and housekeeper. And she says that she doesn't mind shaking the furnace and shoveling coal as a general proposition, what irks her is the knowledge that her husband was the biggest, and strongest and best shot putter and hammer thrower that his school ever turned out.

When we reflect what poverty does to so many men, money does not seem so much of a curse after all.

GAS FUMES FATAL CLEVELAND, Jan. 3.—Adelbert Pennington, 69, president of the Pennington Metal Weather Strip Co., of Lakewood, a suburb, was found dead early today in a garage at the rear of his home. He is believed to have been asphyxiated by carbon monoxide gas when he started the motor of his automobile, while leaving the garage doors closed, last night.

Read what these leading automobile editors said after seeing and riding in the new Chevrolet Six—

"One of the greatest automobiles I have ever seen. In performance, construction and beauty it is phenomenal. Never saw so much car for the money."
—NORTH BIGBEE
Dallas News

"In appearance, performance and mechanical nicety the new Chevrolet Six presents actual values far beyond its price range."
—HAZEN CONKLIN
New York World

"The new Chevrolet is a triumph for volume production. The car at its price is one of the greatest achievements ever recorded in the automobile industry. Its beauty is a treat; its riding comfort a new delight and its performance a real sensation."
—RAY PRIEST
Detroit Times

"Aside from beauty in body lines and attractiveness in finish, the outstanding feature of the new Chevrolet Six is its powerful and flexible motor. One will have to go far to equal the high performance of this new Chevrolet in general road and traffic use."
—LEON J. PINKSON
San Francisco Chronicle

"In speed and acceleration, the new Chevrolet will more than satisfy the average person. In design, Fisher offers credit as appearance. In short, the new car is by far Chevrolet's outstanding achievement."
—EDWARD M. MILLER
Portland Oregonian

"Introducing new style, beauty and smoothness, the new Chevrolet Six certainly meets the requirements of the most exacting buyer."
—H. M. VAN DEVENDER
Atlanta Constitution

Target Tells of the Shot Persons who engage in target practice will be interested to hear of a new device which records each shot just as it is made, so that from the shooter's position he will be informed as to just where the shot struck. This is done by a series of flag signals which are displayed by the force of the striking shot. There will be no need of frequent trips to the target to see the score or to change cards.

AN EASY WAY TO LOSE FAT

Instead of abnormal exercise or diet, they combat a cause of excess fat. They supply an element Nature employs to turn food into fuel and energy. This method was discovered by researchers more than two decades ago. It has for 20 years been embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. Millions of boxes have been taken, and almost every circle shows the results in new beauty, new health and vitality. The formula comes in every box, also the scientific reasons for results. So users have no fear of harm. Go learn now what Marmola does for excess fat, and why. Your druggist supplies it at $1 per box. Take four tablets daily and watch the change.

GREAT INTEREST SHOWN IN HOME TALENT SHOW

The director, Miss Grayce Mackey, from Rogers Co., of Ohio with whom the contract has been let by the local Business and Professional Women's club to stage "Her Song" arrived Thursday and started rehearsals immediately. This musical comedy will be presented at 8:15 o'clock on the evenings of Jan. 17th and 18th.

A considerable number of people were placed in their various singing and dancing groups and in the evening the principals and rehearsals were classified and rehearsals started.

Many of the city's best singers will participate in the musical comedy which is said to be a decided departure from the customary type of show, in that a real story is involved.

The musical and dancing numbers are especially good and much interest was in evidence Thursday on the part of those in attendance at rehearsals.

The committee is under the chairmanship of Mrs. H. G. Stevenson.

MRS. COURTRIGHT
IS HOSTESS

Mrs. Dudley Courtright extended the hospitality of her home on E. Mound-st. to a number of friends Thursday night, at an informal holiday party. The guests were members of the Tuesday night bridge club.

ATTENDS BUFFET DINNER AT COLUMBUS HOME

Mr. George Grand-Girard attended a six o'clock buffet dinner Thursday night given by Mrs. George Schoedinger and her daughter, Miss Helen Schoedinger, at their beautiful home at 347 Kendall-pl., Columbus. The 20 guests present at this affair were members of the Ohio special from Columbus and nearby towns, who attended the World's Sunday school convention held recently in California. The guests were from Portsmouth, Springfield and Westerville and numbered among them were State Secretary and Mrs. Arthur Arnold.

Following a most delicious dinner, the guests were invited to the third floor, which had been furnished for a movie theater. Three pictures which had been taken by Miss Schoedinger on the recent trip were shown, in films that occupied an hour and a half. All the pleasures and beauties of the trip were again experienced and made the reunion a real success.

ENTERTAINS CLUB
ON THURSDAY

Mrs. Harry Heffner was the charming hostess Thursday night to the members of her bridge club at her home on E. Union-st. When the last score had been tallied and the scores added, Mrs. George H. Fickardt was presented with an attractive trophy.

Mrs. George Florence McCrea of Kingsport, Tenn., and Mrs. John Corbitt of Detroit, Mich., were guests from out of the city.

OFFICERS INSTALLED AT LOGAN ELM GRANGE

At the regular meeting of the Logan Elm grange on Tuesday night the officers for the ensuing year were installed by Miss Katherine McKenzie assisted by Mrs. Cora Hoad, Mrs. Shirley Dreisbach and Mrs. Lewis Smith. The officers who entered into office at that time were: Master, Wilbur Metcalf; overseer, Marvin Dreisbach; lecturer, James Mowery; steward, Lewis Smith; assistant steward Thomas Wright; gate keeper, Charles Waper; secretary, E. C. Wilkins; treasurer, Otis Leist; chaplain, Mrs. Charles Kiger; Flora, Gladys Rader; Ceres, Miss Noaa Shepler; Pamona, Mildred Shaner and lady assistant steward, Mrs. George Jury.

MISSIONARY MEETING HELD IN KINGSTON

Although a number of members were unable to be present because of illness, the Missionary meeting Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Flora Shoemaker at 2:30 o'clock in Kingston was very satisfactory in every way. The president, Mrs. F. I. Rittenour, presided at the business session and the study hour. The study subject was "Africa" with Mrs. Emma May in charge of the study chapter. Mrs. Mollie Pugh conducted the mystery box questions. The delicious refreshments that were served after the business consisted of whipped jello in pistachio and strawberry flavor, and coffee and home made cakes.

GREAT INTEREST SHOWN IN HOME TALENT SHOW

The director, Miss Grayce Mackey, from Rogers Co., of Ohio with whom the contract has been let by the local Business and Professional Women's club to stage "Her Song" arrived Thursday and started rehearsals immediately. This musical comedy will be presented at 8:15 o'clock on the evenings of Jan. 17th and 18th.

A considerable number of people were placed in their various singing and dancing groups and in the evening the principals and remaining choruses were classified and rehearsals started.

Many of the city's best singers will participate in the musical comedy which is said to be a decided departure from the customary type of show, in that a real story is involved.

The musical and dancing numbers are especially good and much interest was in evidence Thursday on the part of those in attendance at rehearsals.

The committee is under the chairmanship of Mrs. H. G. Stevenson.

MRS. COURTRIGHT IS HOSTESS

Mrs. Dudley Courtright extended the hospitality of her home on E. Mound-st to a number of friends Thursday night, at an informal holiday party. The guests were members of the Tuesday night bridge club.
